To the Editor:

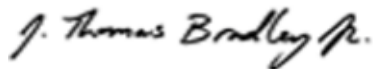

In reference to Brooke Southall's Feb. 13 article, "TD Ameritrade Segmenting Adviser Market," I'd like to make absolutely clear that TD AMERITRADE will continue our focus on all advisors, not just those with $500 million or more in assets under management.

Our suite of services and our expanded technology platform are enjoyed by clients of all sizes. In other words, we see ourselves as a custodian to large advisors in addition to - not instead of - those with less than $500 million under management.

TD AMERITRADE will remain committed to delivering service and technology solutions that help advisors grow their businesses. We will also explore new conference and networking opportunities that will promote an environment in which all advisors can benefit

We want advisors we serve to know that our relationship with them is extremely important to us. Their success is important to us and we're deeply committed to helping them grow.

Sincerely,

Tom Bradley
